OBJECTIVES:

(Prerequisite: Students must have successfully completed Television Production 1 & 2) Television Production 3 is intended to review and build on the concepts and skills learned in the second year course. Additional projects and leadership responsibilities will be assigned to third year students, including additional on-location shoots, classroom mentoring, show producing and maintenance of the Newbury cable access channel . Other projects will include news packages, event production, webcasts, school promotional videos and commercials, and long-form movies. Some after school filming and production will be required. There will also be opportunities for paid field work.

GRADING:

- News packages (1 per quarter) 40%
- Video Projects (1 per quarter) 40%
- Daily Classwork 20%

ATTENDANCE:

According to school policy: "Students will face the loss of course credit if their total absences exceed Five (5). Absences due to extenuating circumstances such as an extended illness, which are properly documented, will count as one (1).

CLASS GUIDELINES:

- Respect all others in class, especially when they are brainstorming ideas, working on videos, etc.
- No food or drink in the studio.
- All videos and projects must be school appropriate and not include language or situations that do not conform to school code. Mr. L will have the final say on such issues.
- Please be responsible when handling all equipment. They are very expensive and we cannot afford to replace them due to clumsiness, laziness, sloppiness, goofing off, etc
- You will be allowed in the hallways during this class for filming assignments. PLEASE DO NOT ABUSE THIS PRIVILEGE!!
- The media computers are for media class work ONLY! Please do not change any settings or download anything to them.
- YouTube is a valuable resource for media research. It is to be used ONLY for research.
